

The Sunday Times.

No. 302

THE HERITAGE of FLEET STREET

April 2026

The Sunday Times was founded by Henry White and published its first issue on 23 October 1822. It quickly became known for its high-quality journalism, especially its reporting on politics, the arts, and major investigations.

In 1841, it became the first British newspaper to publish a novel in weekly parts. It later gained a strong reputation for theatre reviews, books, and arts coverage. Famous serials included the memoirs of leading public figures and Andrew Morton's biography of Diana, Princess of Wales.

In 1963, the paper launched its Insight team, which investigated major stories involving politics, crime, sport, and public health. One of its best-known campaigns exposed the Thalidomide scandal, leading to changes in Britain's contempt of court laws. The paper has also introduced popular features such as the Review section, Style magazine, and the annual Rich List. Today, it remains one of Britain's leading Sunday newspapers.

REVERSION.
TO be SOLD, the PRINCIPAL SUM of FOUR HUNDRED and SIXTY-TWO POUNDS, payable in Twelve Months after the decease of a Nobleman, aged 66, with 5 per cent. Interest from the date of the Security (December, 1818), which is the Bond of a highly respectable Nobleman, and a Gentleman resident at Ipswich, of the first respectability.
Particulars may be had of Messrs. Daniell, Sewell, and Daniell, Solicitors, Colchester, or 32, Essex-street, London.

POSTING REDUCED ON THE GREAT NORTH ROAD.
THE GREY-HOUND INN, BOROUGHBIDGE.
W. RIDSDALE (from PEELE'S COFFEE-HOUSE, London) most respectfully informs the Nobility, Gentry, and the Public, that he has reduced the Posting to One Shilling per Mile; when he doubts not his anxious desire to give general satisfaction, and his unremitting exertions to afford the best possible accommodation to a liberal and indulgent Public, will gain him their support, which he will ever feel most solicitously anxious to merit.—W. R., while he solicits encouragement, begs leave to caution the Public in giving their particular orders to the GREY-HOUND, has the only House in the North Road at that Reduced Price.

BURGESS'S NEW SAUCE for general purposes having given such great approbation, and the demand for it continuing to encrease, JOHN BURGESS AND SON beg most respectfully to offer their best acknowledgments to the Public for their liberal patronage of the same; its utility and great convenience in all climates, has recommended it to the most distinguished foreign connections, who have all spoken highly in its recommendation. It is prepared by them ONLY; and for preventing disappointment to families, all possible care has been resorted to by each bottle being sealed upon the cork with their firm and address, as well as each label having their signature, without which it cannot be genuine.
JOHN BURGESS' AND SON'S long established and much esteemed ESSENCE OF ANCHOVIES, continues to be prepared by them after the same manner that has given the greatest satisfaction for many years.—Warehouse, 107, STRAND, corner of the SAVOY-STEPS, London.
(THE ORIGINAL FISH-SAUCE WAREHOUSE.)

WINE ROOMS, QUEEN'S ARMS, CHEAPSIDE.
On the principle of "The Shades."
JAMES INNES begs to announce to Gentlemen who have approved the long established system of that place, in supplying WINE FROM THE WOOD, IN FULL MEASURES; that he has fitted up a Commodious Room in his House (at above) for this purpose;—which was opened last month; and returns his best thanks for the support which he has received, and the general approbation the system has obtained.
